Acid Alex

Acid Alex is a story of hideous child abuse, brutal institutions and wild rebellion. It veers between abject mistreatment, religious hysteria and narcotic intoxication, while journeying deep into the violent underworld of Cape Town gangs and international organized crime, then behind the cold bars of prison and out the other side.

An autobiography in the form of a novel, ACID ALEX chronicles Al Lovejoy's story of his life as a child in reform school, conscript, prisoner, international drug smuggler and addict. Al was born in 1963 in a "beautiful bitter country once called Rhodesia." He never knew who his parents were but to outward appearances, he was a white baby.

Alexis Colard was born in Belfort France, close to Germany and Switzerland. As an imaginative kid from a small town, he was always wondering around, creating art projects from whatever inspiration he could find. From the German bunkers taken over by nature, to the ride trips on motorcycles in the hills, or spending hours watching English-speaking movies and TV shows on the computer, playing ...
