Hey, I just went to my local Lesco and they are getting rid of their stock so this 2007 lesco 52 inch hydro 19hp V-twin electric start is only $4300 bucks. Is it worth it for a dying breed of mowers. I can still easily get parts for like the engine, but let me know what you think. I have a 36 inch lesco belt driven and I love it.

52" Commercial Lesco Walk behind with a Kawasaki twin. Less than 800 hours on it. Electric start. Lot of new parts. Comes with a Sulky and steel bag system. I added a stainless steel belly to the steel bag as it was starting to get thin. So that is repaired and will last for years now that it is also adjusted properly. The mower runs and drives ...
